Coach Kinney is a graduate of the United States Military Academy at West Point where she competed as NCAA Division 1 diver for the U.S. Army's Black Knights. Prior to that, while attending Branford High School in her home state of Connecticut, Kasey led the school's varsity team as the most valuable diver and team captain. Additionally, in her post-graduate year at Mercersburg Academy (Mercersburg, Pennsylvania), Kasey once again led the school's dive team as its most valuable diver and team captain.

Now calling Montgomery County home, and the Montgomery Dive Club (MDC) since 2014, Kasey serves as MDC's Assistant National Team Coach. She has also amassed an impressive portfolio of local coaching appointments including head dive coach responsibilities for the Georgetown Preparatory School, the Academy of the Holy Cross and the Madeira School in McLean, as well as the River Falls Dolphins in Potomac during the Summer months. In addition to her experience as a diver and coach, Kasey comes to MDC with a diversified background that includes military, corporate management, and athletic administration experience. As a result, she is highly organized and results-oriented and serves as a strong role model to MDC's divers. Additionally, Kasey continues to improve the program's administration and organization while providing strong coaching and support to MDC's divers. She is really looking forward to working with the Tuckahoe divers and families this year!
